United States Presidential Election 2020
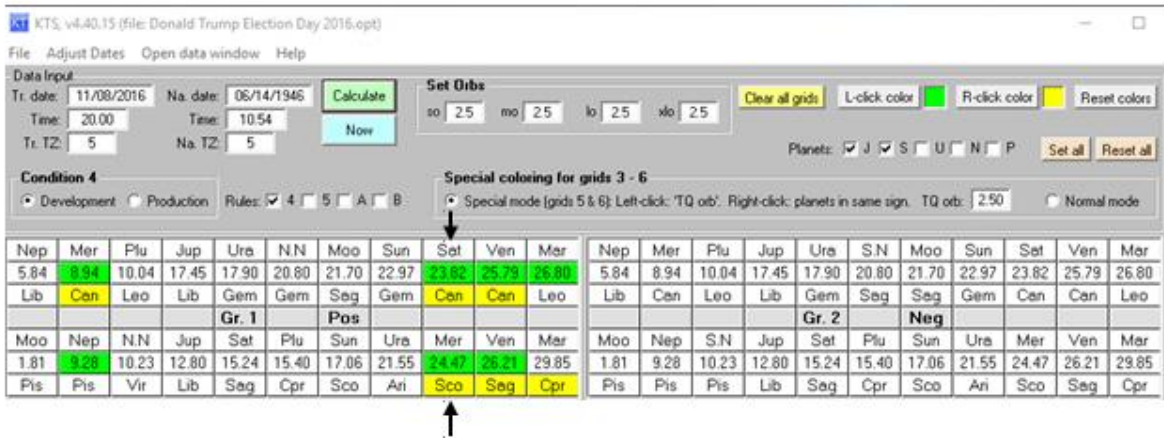

Would you like to know the outcome of the Election November 3, 2020, a full year before it occurs? It can be done! Think of the potential of knowing this information in advance, not only for the candidate, but also saving the taxpayers a billion dollars that could be spent for the benefit of the people.

The Kerry Theory uses SIGN agreement to determine if any 120-degree "positive" aspect or 90- or 180-degree "negative" aspect will operate. Planets in the same SIGN are just like wiring that needs a connection to operate. The wiring comes from the 90, 180, or 120-degree angles.

When you look at Donald Trump's chart for the 2016 Presidential Election, you see exactly why he won. Donald Trump was born with two major combinations; Mars/Pluto in Leo (not operating), and Mercury/Venus/Saturn in Cancer (which was operating and is highlighted in yellow). Natal Mercury Cancer and natal Saturn Cancer are in the same SIGN, waiting for direction, which they get from transiting Mercury being 120-degrees "positive" to his natal Saturn.

Mercury "positive" Saturn gives a serious, self-reliant, organized individual, where there is a willingness to work, especially on long-term projects.

Natal Mercury Cancer and natal Venus Cancer are in the same SIGN, waiting for direction, which they get from transiting Mercury 120-degrees natal Venus. This is stronger than usual due to the placement of transiting Mercury (Scorpio/Sagittarius) and transiting Venus (Sagittarius) in the same SIGN (planets within 6.5-degrees of the beginning or end of their sign are considered in both signs).

Mercury "positive" Venus favors social interaction and laughter, and mental enjoyment and positive conversations; where people are in agreement.

Transiting Venus in Sagittarius/Capricorn and transiting Mars in Capricorn/Aquarius are waiting for direction, which comes from transiting Venus 120-degrees natal Mars.

Venus "positive" Mars stimulates action dealing with social activities or events that bring gratification. There is a drive for "shared" interaction and you are motivated to be entertained---you are literally in the mood for fun, or perhaps to dine out. The personality becomes more demonstrative.

Remember, there is always a natal planet and its transiting counterpart planet; one just represents the position at your birth, and the other the "present time"; they are the same planet. Mercury is the connection planet with the "positive" energy because it connects to a natal outer planet, namely, Saturn.

Thus, transiting Mercury becomes the important planet to examine to see what else it is doing to increase or decrease the energy flow. Transiting Neptune was 120-degrees Donald Trump's natal Mercury during this Election cycle. Neptune is the planet of influence and it would act like a magnet, drawing people to his way of thinking.

Mercury "positive" Neptune gives highly developed intuition, insight, or artistic inclinations, and a strong interest in unknown matters.

Now compare the chart above to the chart below - Election Day, November 3, 2020. A person's top 3 lines in the two grids never changes because the top 3 lines display the natal planet positions. It is the transiting planets that are constantly on the move to create new scenarios that change (the bottom 3 lines). So you see the same natal planets Mercury, Venus, and Saturn all colored yellow again.

The chart below shows you President Trump's same powerful combination of natal Mercury/Saturn/Venus all in the SIGN of Cancer. However, this time, transiting Mercury is 90-degrees "negative" natal Saturn's placement. The Pluto/Mars in Leo combination is not in play.

Natal Mercury Cancer and natal Saturn Cancer again are waiting for direction, which they get from transiting Mercury "negative" Saturn, bringing on thoughts that are sad, unhappy, or depressed. The thinking processes are slow or flawed; poor decisions are made, or the person is vulnerable to situations that could potentially hurt them.

The strength of this "negative" position will be increased because transiting Mercury is 90-degrees to transiting Saturn.

Natal Mercury Cancer and natal Venus Cancer are waiting for direction, which they get from transiting Mercury 90-degrees natal Venus; the strength is increased due to transiting Mercury and transiting Venus both in the same SIGN of Libra.

Mercury "negative" Venus makes an individual self-indulgent, seeking something he highly desires, but which is not realistic, irresponsible, and self-serving.

Transiting Mercury sets the 90-degrees "negative" energy flow (not like the prior election when Mercury was "positive") and the "negative" energy is found in the natal chart, and active due to transiting Mercury Libra and natal Neptune Libra waiting for direction, which they get from natal Mercury 90-degrees natal Neptune.

Mercury "negative" Neptune causes a time of uncertainty, where anything you say may be deceptive, distorted, or your thinking may be confused or not factual.

An interesting note.

Pluto represents the extreme in our Universe, and leaves nothing to chance. He creates new beginnings or finishes old circumstances. He produces a complete loss of control where events happen with severity and that you have no power to change.

So where was transiting Pluto in 1776, when our country officially began, and banished the aristocratic power, and created a new nation?

Pluto was transiting at the end of the SIGN of Capricorn. So what does Capricorn produce? Pluto moves very slowly. In the year, 2008, or the first time in 232 years, Pluto again moved into the SIGN of Capricorn. Pluto presently is at 21 degrees of Capricorn. What should we expect? The same scenario or changes in government, taxes, and governing policies?

Einstein believed in cause and effect; knowing the characteristics of any object, you ought to be able to predict exactly what will happen in any situation. One's actions can cause, for example, an accident; if driving too fast on an icy road and hitting the brakes very hard, you could safely predict you would slip and slide. We now know the cause of events occurring in our solar environment, and now we have the ability to understand the outcomes.
